Recognizing that:

- The environment in which the customs administrations of the WCA region are operating is becoming increasingly complex, marked by the globalization markets and revenue collection, security and trade facilitation imperatives. Added to this is a binding political and legal system, the massive use of ICT and the notable emancipation of staff;

- People-centered capacity building will enable Customs administrations to implement reform and modernization initiatives and highlighting the critical need for Customs administrations in the WCA region to further intensify efforts and investments in the area of human resource management and training, with a view to achieving their organizational objectives;

Convinced that:

- The implementation of a modern competency-based human resource management system will enable the Customs Administrations of the WCA region to improve their performance and to succeed in their reform and modernization processes.

Have agreed that:

Training and Human Resources Managers should:

- Participate in their personal development to fully assume their responsibility in the modernization of human resource management within their administrations;

- Fully play their role as strategic partners and change agents within their Administrations for better organizational performance;

- Implement modern competency-based HRM tools, especially in the area of recruitment and training.

Customs administrations of the WCO - WCA region should:
